

Turning Torso

The skyscraper Turning Torso is the new landmark in Malmö demonstrating its focus on sustainable urban development and renewable energy. The building is equipped with energy efficient LED lighting and waste disposers in all apartments where residents can turn their food waste into biogas for the city's buses.

Photo: City of Malmö

