

The world heritage Gammelstad Church Town

The Gammelstad site is the world's most extensive and best preserved example of a church town, with more than 400 church cottages gathered around a medieval stone church. UNESCO added Gammelstad church town to their world heritage list in 1996 - motivated by its outstanding universal value and its relevance to all mankind.

<http://www.lulea.se/engelsk/gammelstadchurchtown.4.e80e04119324d918780001202.htm>

!

Photo by: Graeme Richardson

