

This is Söderhamn

Söderhamn is beautifully situated by the east coast, in the province of Hälsingland. Stockholm/Arlanda Airport is 2 hours away by train.

The municipality has about 25,000 inhabitants, 12,000 of whom live in the central town, not far from the Baltic Sea.

Though being so close to Sweden's capital, Söderhamn is located in a sparsely populated region with less than 300 000 inhabitants.

Archipelago

We have a beautiful archipelago with 500 small islands for both private and public access.

Overall goal

We want to develop Söderhamn as an open and attractive town by the sea – a place to live in, long for and move to.

New Times – New Dynamics

UBC Seminar in Söderhamn

May 22nd – 25th 2016

New Times – New Dynamics

Sweden is growing – much thanks to the record-breaking migration netto. After decades of population decline, the municipality of Söderhamn is growing too, with 2 – 300 inhabitants every year. We want to turn the trend into something sustainable. To do so we require new community planning, focused on our possibilities.

We need Your support to get a fresh view on our town, and in the long run to make Söderhamn a place to long for, move to and live in.

At the conference in May we will focus on two centrally located areas with different character. Both are strategic in the developing central Söderhamn and in need of an overall development view. We will encounter questions on history and future, industrial heritage, urban planning for business and living and the link to the Baltic Sea.

Save the Date!

22nd – 25th May 2016 in Söderhamn, Sweden.

We will provide the programme and possibility to register later this spring.

Welcome to Söderhamn!
